

ONVIF Welcomes You as a User Member!

Dear Member,

It is a pleasure to welcome you as a User Member of ONVIF.

Since ONVIF was founded in 2008, we have seen a tremendous growth in acceptance for ONVIF conformant products and we are overwhelmed by the strong commitment from our members. It cannot be emphasized enough that the entire success of ONVIF is built on our member's engagement and contribution of expertise in the field of interoperability.

We are equally thrilled by your decision to become a User Member and are looking forward to your engagement. All the details on how to start getting involved with ONVIF can be found in the accompanying "Getting Started Guide." By becoming a User Member you will have the opportunity to engage with others in the member forum, access the specification draft, use the ONVIF conformance tools and have the ability to declare conformant products.

Should you have any questions regarding your membership or other ONVIF related issues, please do not hesitate to contact the ONVIF Membership Services at help@onvif.org.

Once again, we welcome you to ONVIF, the industry forum driving the development of open global standards for effective interoperability of IP-based physical security products.

Yours truly,

Leonid Levit
Chairman, ONVIF Steering Committee
